OUR IMPACT

Funds raised support Live Like Brent Foundation's Comfort Fund program, helping blood cancer patients overcome non-medical barriers to treatment. Partner hospital care teams initiate requests for documented review. Approved expenses, including housing, utilities, transportation, lodging and food support, are paid directly to the company or organization providing the service on behalf of the patient. Funds are not paid directly to patients. LLBF does not replace insurance, pay medical claims, or routinely cover cost-sharing obligations.

PROGRAM SAFEGUARDS

Comfort Fund requests are initiated by partner hospital care teams and reviewed through a documented process. Assistance is limited to approved non-medical needs that can affect care continuity, such as transportation, lodging, utilities, food support, and housing stability. LLBF does not provide cash directly to patients. Instead, approved expenses are paid directly to the company or organization providing the service - such as a utility company, landlord, transportation provider, lodging provider, or food support provider - on behalf of the patient. LLBF does not replace insurance coverage, pay medical claims, or routinely cover cost-sharing obligations.

LLBF does not support, promote, or influence the use of any specific medication, therapy, provider, payer, insurance product, or pharmaceutical product. Donor and sponsor reporting is provided only in aggregate, de-identified form. LLBF does not share patient-identifiable information with donors, sponsors, pharmaceutical companies, insurers, or corporate funders.
